JOB POSTING: FORENSIC SCIENTIST

IMPLIED CONSENT LABORATORY

The Alabama Department of Forensic Sciences (ADFS) is now accepting applications for a Forensic Scientist position within our national leading Implied Consent Laboratory. ADFS is one of the nation's oldest and premier Forensic Science systems, and the Implied Consent Laboratory oversees the State's Breath Alcohol Testing Program. The Implied Consent Laboratory of ADFS is internationally accredited as an ISO17025 Testing Laboratory.

Duties of the position include providing training to law enforcement officers on the Intoximeter DMT and/or Drager Alcotest Breath Alcohol instruments, responding to law enforcement agencies to maintain, calibrate, and service Breath Alcohol testing instruments, and providing support of the State's chemical testing program through testimony regarding these topics.

ADFS is a State level Agency and Alabama's only internationally accredited provider of Forensic Laboratory services, and serves all law enforcement agencies throughout the State. ADFS employees enjoy excellent health care benefits, 15 paid Holidays/yr in addition to 13 paid vacation days and 13 paid sick leave days/yr. ADFS employees are members of The Retirement System of Alabama (RSA), one of the nation's largest Retirement Systems, with over $50 billion dollars in assets. ADFS employees may also participate in the Public Student Loan Forgiveness Program as an additional benefit. ADFS values our employees as our greatest asset, and our core values are Service, Integrity, Respect, and Quality.

The State of Alabama has the nation's lowest property taxes, has a thriving sports, arts and culture scene, and central Alabama is an excellent place to live, work, and play.

Experience within a Breath Alcohol Testing Program is preferred, but not required. Interested applicants are asked to email a copy of their current CV to Greg Turner, PhD, Implied Consent Laboratory Technical Director at Greg.Turner@adfs.alabama.gov
